

What to do after the winter cover is installed.

1. It is necessary to drain excess water from the top of your pool cover periodically in order to prevent the cover from slipping into the pool (except for Loop-Loc mesh covers). Leaves must also be removed. Failure to remove leaves could result in algae growth and / or staining of your pool liner.
2. Many ice compensators lose air after the pool is winterized. That is okay. In reality, they are without purpose. (There are no warranties on ice compensators.)
